PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

As we continue our work with Berry Street at the upcoming Curriculum Day, we continue to be drawn back to our school values and what they mean to us all here at school. Defining these values in a way that resonates with everyone can really help in making them a part of daily life at school. Here's a breakdown of each value and how they might be connected to everyday actions and attitudes:

RESPECT

- Definition: Treating others with kindness, consideration, and fairness. It means valuing others' opinions, listening actively, and recognizing the worth of every individual.
- In Practice:
  - In Class: Listen when others are speaking, value different viewpoints, and contribute to discussions in a thoughtful manner.
  - In the Hallways: Maintain a considerate volume, be mindful of personal space, and hold doors open for others.
  - In the Community: Show appreciation for the diverse backgrounds and experiences of fellow students and staff, and be inclusive in group activities.

RESILIENCE

- Definition: The ability to bounce back from setbacks, adapt to change, and keep going despite difficulties. It's about staying determined and not giving up easily.
- In Practice:
  - In Class: Approach challenges with a positive attitude, seek help when needed, and keep trying even when tasks are difficult.
  - In Activities: Embrace new experiences with an open mind, learn from mistakes, and view failures as opportunities for growth.
  - In Personal Development: Set goals, stay motivated, and build coping strategies to manage stress and obstacles effectively.

RESPONSIBILITY

- Definition: Being accountable for one's actions and duties, making choices that reflect integrity and reliability. It's about fulfilling obligations and making positive contributions to the community.
- In Practice:
  - In Class: Complete assignments on time, take ownership of your learning, and contribute positively to group projects.
  - In the School Community: Participate actively in school activities, follow school rules, and respect the environment by keeping the school grounds clean and orderly.
  - In Personal Actions: Acknowledge and learn from mistakes, make ethical decisions, and be someone others can rely on.

By integrating these definitions into the school's culture, students, staff and parents can work together to create a supportive and positive environment where these values are lived out every day.

Have a fantastic weekend.

Ricky Joyce – Principal

LIBRARY NEWS

BOOK WEEK 2024

On Thursday 15th August we held our "Maybe a Miracle" Book Week performance in the hall. The performance was enjoyed by all students and staff who attended. Please see photo attached.

Don't forget our Book Week Dress Up Parade on Friday 23rd August. This year the theme is "Reading is magic" so please start thinking about your costumes. The parade will be held on the basketball court starting at 9am (weather permitting). If the weather is fine, then parents are most welcome to attend. However, if the weather is not suitable and we need to hold the parade in the hall, then unfortunately parents will be unable to attend.

This week in Library, the Preps and Year 1's completed their "Reading is Magic" witch or wizard hats. The students had great fun making them. See photo below

BOOKCLUB ISSUE 5

My apologies to those people who ordered books from Scholastic Issue 5. There has been a delay on Scholastic's end. I am expecting delivery early next week and will get your orders to your children as soon as I can.

Oh What A Trivia Night

Lights, camera (I hope there's not too many photos), action! The hall was ready, Simon Heelis turned the volume up, Dom Phelan took to the stage. The scene was set for a fabulous night and what a night we had! Fun, laughter, singing, and dancing - not to mention a little bit of trivia - were all on the agenda. All table groups, with the help of a beverage (or two) and some sustenance, eagerly responded to the questions, but this year, it was one of the staff tables that prevailed and took the lead to win. Well done Scrog Dogz! Congratulations to all teams who made this such a great event. Special mention to the Double Denim, Double D team who took home the wooden spoon. An enormous thank you is extended to Dom Phelan, Simon Heelis and the Friends of Heights team for the organisation and running of the Trivia Night. Dom and Simon, you have set a benchmark! Let's make this a yearly event!
